Barbro is in NY for the next 2 weeks...but she is really quite curious if you will be able to help out the BBB's as you have so very nicely done in the past. This is a crucial time of the year for them and she is hoping you could just let her know one way or the other. She knows you have helped for many years and greatly appreciates all you have done for them. Even if you were not able to help support this year, she says she would love to bring over some BBB's for a little gathering and nice chat if you were interested.
