From Woody: speechless over receiving birthday present from you. Between that and the Lactaid you spoil me. Thank you so much. Always wanted that exact robe. As life plays cruel tricks, it itches. I am therefore sending it mint an unworn (except a five second try on) to be returned. Doubtless a minion of yours can either get some Euros back or at worst, store credit. I would be happy with either as my present as I can always put the Euros to good use and I wear only Zimmerlee underwear. It was unnecessary to get me a gift but a lovely gesture which I will not forget. I guess Kate Upton was too expensive.
