Lisa Kirk from NYAA has called and given me an update of where things stand with the commissioned portraits:

-Bernard had one meeting with Karyna...they need to organize another meeting and things can get started...

-Kyeong had a meeting planned with Celina, but it was cancelled (not sure by who)

-Nick partook in an international residency over the summer but is back and awaiting you to nominate a subject for him to paint...once he has the name and number of the person you wish him to paint, he can start the process.

Lisa says she will stay on top of Bernard and Kyeong to initiate meetings with Karyna and Celina...she will stay on top of Nick as well once he is given a name. Lisa also mentioned that the artists were pledged in May 2014 and are strongly encouraged to have their subjects painted by winter break, but the students do have up to June 2015 to complete the portraits...
