Looking into the timing and logistics today...will get back to you about it in a few days after I hear from my teams working on this with Joi and Martin. We will probably do something in the range of $3-4 million for each... perhaps I will aim at covering the background administration part, and so you can concentrate on the fellows?! Also, the only parts I can't do much on are building rent and more the 10% costs for travels; other than that, I have a lot of flexibility with the funding. More soon.
