Bill / Larry - this is one person of interest related to the donor advised fund.

25 years as head of Bain capital.

MARK NUNNELLY

He is thoughtful and super smart but soft spoken. He's super knowledgeable and a big advocate in the US education space coincidentally.

Not sure if he is a billionaire himself but probably pretty close. His wife is incredible too. Stable people, smart and no drama.

I have come across him a few settings and been very impressed.

Suspect he would be very interested and more than capable of building and managing such a venture. At the very least someone to speak to that gets it and could help push.
