[REDACTED] has investigated her trip to Zimbabwe...for her to take decent flights, have the ability to change a flight and includes insurance, total cost is $3800. If she takes slightly less desirable (longer) flights, no insurance and no ability to change a flight, the cost is close to $2000. She is asking which trip she should book...she does not want to take advantage and is happy to have the opportunity to go...

Which trip should she book? $3800 or $2000?

(FYI-she wants to pay for the trip and has provided her bank details so Rich can wire her a reimbursement)
