I sent the data on o3b.

SES management has discussed buying 50% of it for between 1.5 and 3b. I would not consider o3b a failure.

It is up and running today with customers paying. The performance is almost double what we promised. The anomaly with the transistor affected 1 of 2 frequency generator units (fgu's) on 2 satellites... So 2 satellites are on the backup fgu's and insurance is covering it.
