Dear Jefftey

Me and my wife want to try trans cranial magnetic stimulation this summer we feel may be this might be the thing that can help her as we managed to heal her stomach completely and now she is healthy again but still not speaking .

There are two places who preform this one at Harvard medical center

And the other by Drjeff Bradstreet at his Clinic at new port beach

Can you please help us to find out which one is better to preform this and can you get us appointments as I heard its difficult

Yours

Istiqama and sultan

God bless you my friend
