Hi dear Jeffrey :)

How are you?

Everything is fine... Thank you for asking:)

I'm still working well... just got news that I was confirmed for Samsung TV commercial... So things are getting better and better. Was in Las Vegas yesterday for a shooting :) crazy city:) I didn't talk to Barry for a long time... I gonna call him today and see how he is doing and where he is..

Same with Steve... I just chatted with him recently, but didn't meet him.

I've got two speech coaches... Barry helped me to get one of them.

So still working on my accent... and since March I might attend a UCLA accent reduction class as well.

I have my theatrical manager who is trying to get me into any movie (but he is not giving me much castings...like once a week or two weeks) ... so I really need to get into theatrical agency to get more castings..

But I don't have any credits to show them that I did something already, so it's like a circle... people can't just believe me that I'm an actress, I have to prove it.

Anyway, everything going to be perfect... I'll find my agency I'm sure about it...

And I'll get an Oscar, I'm sure about it too :)

Have an awesome evening, Jeffrey.

I miss you :(

Kisses to you and [REDACTED] :)

Best,
