Hi Boss,

The third sub was not allowing for a balance sound or a balance appearance in the stacking. I tried having it by itself, but after counseling with the vendor and the installer they both agreed that an addition sub should be added or the one sub be removed for balance. Only the two old mid/high speakers are currently connected. I stored the one sub in the back storage at the flag pole in hopes that an additional one could be added or it could use in a way that would produce correct sound.

Regards
Jruan

Good Day Boss,

I will be over with Larry. My apologies boss, after the talking with the Full Compass vendor about suggestions to improve the sound quality. I used the corner walls to localize the sound direction to try to get right pitch for the low frequency. I can reposition them for you.

My apologies again
JRuan
