thank you for your first draft I think it is a bit too obvious. I like the women as legs. i think it should be a desk of the 21 century with places for laptops chargers etc, it should include a reference to music science and mathematics, these could be in inlays or mounts, there should be a way to hide the computer inside, and have it raise and slide in so that when closed it is beautiful with no tech showing, maybe mounts of different disciplines, music instruments? etc; science tools. etc. the shape i think should be more like the Louis 16 rolltop desk than a bureau, but let's try again
