Greetings Mr. Epstein,

Jermaine did a computer count and nothing appears to be missing. He spoke with Buck, who was the one that witnessed the event, and what Buck described to him (small enough to hold in your hand, used to sit on the desk) Jermaine believes it must have been two of the external hard drives.

Brice probably threw them in the trash, although Jermaine says the info may have been able to be recovered once the drives dried out.

Respectfully,

Daphne
