A=Saudi man made the mistake of his life when he went into a shopping mall an= left his mobile phone in the car with his wife.

Just as he stepped into the busy mall in the eastern province of lh=a, the suspicious woman picked his mobile phone and went straight into the i=box messages.

Her suspicion that her husband has not been faithful to h=r came true as the inbox included scores of messages from women unknown to h=r.

"The woman was mad and could not wait for her husband to re=urn to the car...she rushed inside the mall, picked a large stick she=found near the main gate and ran towards him," the Saudi Arabic lan=uage daily Alsaudeh said.

"When she reached him, she stopped a=d said to him 'you traitor'...she then brought the st=ck on him as scores of shoppers watched in amazement...she kept hitti=g him and warned those who tried to intervene to stay away....when th=y grabbed the man to take him away, she rushed to a nearby shop, brought a p=ttery and smashed it on his head...the husband had no choice but to r=n away with a bleeding head."
