Hey!

Correct. They gov't always pays fair market value of the expropiated assets.

Chavez expropiated the company in 2010 and the owner continued operating the business without giving control over to the gov't until now....I can explain in details if you want.

I will call you tomorrow again to discuss trip to Caracas y oil investment posibility. I have more info i want to share. Let me know what time is best for you?
