Subject: Secret form for your Live QnA questions tonight...

Hi Jeffrey,

Nichol Bradford and I will be doing a special live webinar TONIGHT (12/3) at 8PM ET, 5PM PT to answer questions about the Finders Course 10 experiment.

We've decided to allow some folks to 'jump the line' and submit questions online ahead of time on this form (please don't share this link with others):

(You can also register for the webinar from that link, if you haven't already.)

It's also the first public live QnA we've done in a long time. I think the last one we did was in 2015!

There's only a few more days to apply to participate in this next version of the Finders Course, so this will probably be the last opportunity to ask us questions about the upcoming experiment.

If you're not familiar with these experiments, we've been running them for several years now and they have been remarkably successful at transitioning people to ongoing and persistent forms of non-symbolic experience (more commonly called awakening, nonduality, enlightenment, the peace that passeth understanding, and so on).

About 73% of people who have taken the program have transitioned, with virtually all of the rest getting temporary glimpses of it. You can learn more about them at FindersCourse.com.

Everyone who is interested in the underlying 10+ years of research, or the Finders Course experiments and where they are headed next with the brainwave, heart rate, GSR, and other physiological devices is welcome to attend and ask questions. It will run about an hour.

Hope to see you there!

Much Love,
Jeffery
