To answer your question about "how do you spend your days?"

I am very busy taking care of my [REDACTED], our houses and my work.

I was very frustrated with my husband these last 8 years so I decided to get back my freedom at least regarding my work so I am working on 3 things:

1/organising events like usually and preparing an important wedding for October 1.

2/have my dreams come true in my work: starting to work in "[REDACTED]"

[REDACTED]. This allow me to have a step in it and meet people in that world. Do you have some top contacts in Broadway or London west end by chance?

3/And also in the same time I am developing a new "cafe concept", working at the moment on the feasibility study and then the business plan: it will become a very interesting business (concept is in between Starbucks and Pret a manger), I will have to raise money once business plan finished.

Kisses
