Been thinking of you!

Things are starting to move at the center. Our first Behavioral Science Summit will be on Friday 29 June. Malcolm Gladwell will open it, and then it will have 18 sessions that are just "Ask the Expert" -- no formal talks, just Q&A. We'll have great people there. Put it on your calendar. We also got Apple to sign on, but the details are still vague. And we are finally making the right contacts at Google (do you know Astro Teller?). etc.

Am on a plane most of the rest of the day. Will be coming to NYC 12 - 16 October. You around?
Also, come to think of it, does your apartment happen to be available then?

I hope you are well.
