spoke to ben moore.. and he can put together with me a group of smart people (there is a group called Zurich Mind=, with a magazine listing names and bios which I might be able to send you for you to tell me if anyone there is of interest), and an excursion to this strange place he wants to set up an institute at.. So, we will need to figure out if this is really gonna happen and then we can arrange things.. Remember, I speak at CERN afternoon of the 29th.. you could come to that, and we could have dinner in Geneva after that and stay over or fly back to zurich that night.. depending upon your druthers...
