
From: Mark Tramo MD PhD <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Saturday, March 26, 2011 2:24 PM
To: Epstein
Subject: To JEE

sorry i missed your call during the keynote address...some swiss bigwig who made Derrida turn in his grave with fruitless linguocentric 'work' that asked listeners to match different adjectives for emotions to different musical features (!)...I couldn't help but point out in the Q&A that had already been done in the 1930-40s in the US to no avail...he even confused aesthetics and emotion, using the former as a disjunctive modifier of the latter! ("aesthetic emotion")...i'm around if you want to continue our conversation - my cell [REDACTED] and i have wheels in the bronx

AND, jeffrey, if you want a really great home-cooked italian dinner by a italian-american mom, please do come over for the traditional 1p sunday pasta dinner - she's always loved having my pals over for dinner, really - think about it - we'd love to have you - only 20 mins north on I-87xxx