Hi Jeffrey,

Lets plan when I can come visit. At the end I discovered that I was sick because of my wisdom teeth not throat infection. I wanted to ask you if you need someone to help you with building the new island or if you need some architect for some other work since an Italian architecture company contacted me to be an intermediary and find clients in London and worldwide. If you are interested or you know someone else who will be interested to have Italian architect let me know. Should I come this Thursday?
