Dear Jeffrey,

Hope you are doing well,

I am delighted to write with the news of House of the Nobleman's upcoming exhibition, Delirious Picasso, due to take place in New York during Frieze Week (May 12 - 17).

The exhibition is an exploration of Picasso's legacy, presenting works by contemporary artists who have been influenced by the great master of modern art. At the heart of the exhibition is a specially-commissioned project by British artist Wolfe von Enkiewicz, which explores the formal relationship between Picasso and Japanese ukiyo-e art. These sumptuous large paintings recall the glorious geishas of 19th century Japanese artist Kikugawa Eizan, but with all the dynamism and panache of Picasso. The exhibition also presents a collection of works on paper by Richard Prince, a fabulous array of works by George Condo, and of course a selection of paintings, prints and drawings by Picasso himself.

The venue is one of New York's most magnificent buildings, a stunning 1920's edifice, Academy Mansion, on the Upper East Side.

Our preview is scheduled for Monday, May 11 between 5 pm and 9 pm, but you may come for a tour at any time during the week. To book in advance, or to be sent a list of works, please email or telephone me.

If you are in the mood for a party, we will be hosting a grand reception the evening of Wednesday, May 13 at 8 PM.

With best wishes, and I look forward to welcoming you,

Anastasiya
