The guys from LSJ came over today to begin taking down the dry wall in Jeann's office. There is fiberglass insulation in the walls so they advise to c=ose it up right away. Reefco needs to come in to kill all the mold and mak= sure that it does not return. That will take a few days.

It looks like three of Jeanne's walls and two of mine need to be removed. I=have asked the guys to remove the insulation along with the dry wall. This=will require that we shut down the AC while they are removing the fiberglas=. This is a bit more extensive than I originally thought.
