
From: jeffrey epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, March 1, 2011 11:34 PM
To: R. Couri Hay
Subject: Re: Re:

I was told it was lloyd grove &nb=p; Not true?

Sorry for all the typos .Sent from my iPhone =br>On Mar 1, 2011, at 3:16 PM, "R. Couri Hay" [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] > wrote:

Hi Jeffrey

I hope I =99m not bothering you, but this is information I think you need to know. Tina Brown h=s assigned a 1200 to 1500 word story with pictures about you for Newsweek and t=e deadline is next Wednesday. My good friend Alexandra Wolfe is writing the st=ry; she called me within an hour of getting this assignment. If you hire me I fe=l confident that I can positively affect this feature on your behalf. That doe= not mean I can control it completely or that they won't reference pa=t problems. However, I can assure you that the story will be fair and balanced=and that your side will be represented intelligently. The story will be abou= your reemergence in New York post your previous problems. The party you gave=for Prince Andrew will be a big part of it. I suggest we arrange for intervi=ws with figures who have seen the good things that you have done in business, science, and philanthropy. I'll be home after 7:30 tonight. My home n=umber is [REDACTED] or you can call my cell at [REDACTED] I will also be in to=orrow morning. I suggest you act swiftly in this matter. As I told you when we fir=t met this story wont go away and you need to take positive steps to change yo=r image.

Cheers,
Couri=/div>

Follow me on Twitter [REDACTED]

=