Was just sitting here...working on my talk...and decided I would rather think of a really fun dinner with you. Do you know who I would invite?

1. Paul Patterson – Caltech, I like his idea about “stuck in your neural tube = screwed”=80
2. Saif Qadafi – son of, but also supposedly smart, activities against everything but good Africa ties— wants to make money not fix poverty
3. Jesse Ventura – wrestler, former governor, Navy Seal
4. Paul Greengard – Nobel but political nutcase
5. Oliver Sachs – neurologist but nutjob

Oh and you and me.

I know I am dreaming but still it would be fun.
