Richard -

I'm so sorry for this inconvenience. The obligation, however, is completely i= [REDACTED] ballpark. She is trying to get out of repaying her loan to Jeff=ey, which is inexcusable.

There is email documentation proving that she accepted a loan of $1,500 from=Jeffrey, as well as two witnesses.

$600 of this loan was left by [REDACTED] as a security deposit on our mutual l=ase, which was why I was able to repay $4,100 (i.e. $3,500, my part of the l=an, as well as these $600). However, the remaining $900 is money that [REDACTED] still has, and owes Jeffrey.

Thank you,
[REDACTED]

Hell= Richard,

I'm terribly sorry. Have you tried contacting [REDACTED]? I have tried reachin= her as well but she is not returning my calls.

The remaining $900 of the loan is owed by [REDACTED] - I am doing e=everything in my power to urge her to repay the money as soon as possible, bu= I think it would help if you contacted her as well. <=ont

Hell= Richard,

I have now wired $4,100 to the account you listed.

As I mentioned below - the outstanding balance of $900 is to be repaid by my former roommate and co-recipient to the loan [REDACTED]. I have told her that the deadline for repayment is April 1. If she has not repaid her loan by then, please feel free to contact her at <mailto:[REDACTED]> [REDACTED] > or on her cell phone [REDACTED].

Thanks again,

Thanks Richard.

I will wire $4,100 by the end of this month. The remaining $900 will be wired from a different account - my ex-roommate [REDACTED] who was co-recipient to the loan - also by the end of this month.

Best,
[REDACTED]
