

---

From: Eva Dubin [REDACTED]
Sent: Wednesday, January 12, 2011 9:17 PM
To: Jeffrey
Subject: FW:

---

From: kimberly.feierstein@highbridge.com

Date: Wed, 12 Jan 2011 16:04:08 -0500
Subject: FW:

Kim -I just got off the phone with Universal Aviation who handles all of our international flying in association with Executive Jet Management. According to the Manager of Regulatory Customs, this is something that will not be available anytime in the near future for aviation in the USA. She said it will likely be 3 years or more. Her name is Laura Evrington, and she meets regularly with US Customs officials on current and proposed rule making. She states that the info on the link provided will continue to apply to boats only.

We do have something very similar for Canada which is called CANPASS, and we are registered and part of that program for international arrivals into Canada.

All being said, we will continue to look into this to see if there is something on the horizon that is being overlooked.

Thanks,
Dave

</=pan>

This e-mail message is intended only for the named recipient(s) above. It may contain confidential information. If you are not the intended recipient you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution or copying of this e-mail and any attachment(s) is strictly prohibited. If you have received this e-mail in error, please immediately notify the sender by replying to this e-mail and delete the message and any attachment(s) from your system. Thank you.

=