Leon called me which is his usual magnanimo=s and kind self. He extended kind words and indicated how he values my par=icipation and wish for long term relationship.

I'd like to discuss pushing this out to my =on's 18th birthday which is just 5 months. 7/18/2018 - emancipation day. A=so would like to discuss your thoughts on COBA coverage. Thanks.

Based on twisted assertions by JEE it is impossible to be terminated for anything other than cause. I can't or wouldn't ever seek to enforce this of course. If I go I am saddled by the promise made to my son back when I made that fatal decision. It will be a badge of honor.

Relatively accurate albeit #5 is new but I can see the POV.

Rich-here's a summary of what we've been talking about.

1. You will have a two year contract at the salary of 400k/yr.
2. We will continue to make charitable contributions of 60k/yr to your son's school.
3. If you are terminated without cause we will payout the remaining term on the contract, but in no event will your payout be less than 12 mos.
4. After a termination, at our option, we can lower the payout by continuing to make the charitable contribution.

5. Even tho we didn't discuss it, it probab=y makes sense for there to be some sort of mitigation clause where, once y=u get settled in a follow-up situation, our obligation to continue to pay =oes away or goes down.

Is this accurate? Any additional thgts?

Thx, b
