Gary, what size Kva generator? Sounds like a good fit to operate hanger door, lights etc.
Or would it benefit us to use this generator by the beach to light up this area for night ops of helicopter? The light currently in use that lights up the pond and hill that is on final approach is no comparison to the candle power of the construction light poles we have used in the past.
If we use the generator to supply power to light poles on beach, would that be a possible application?
Thx
Larry
