you should decide whether you want francelli to finish the cabinets or someone else.. the work is of such poor quality, I have had furniture made for years. This is without a doubt the shoddiest . boards that are not glued together, wood splinters ,designs that still have to be drilled out,with the drill bit markings still in the wood. Hardware that is poorly attached and inoperable. splintered tortoise shell with extra pieces added , many floor boards missing, the new door, totally raw. no finish at all. .
