Yes, you can. But I have an easier way!!

We can connect an internet cable to the back of the new Blu-Ray player I installed last time. The player has Netflix and Blockbuster built into it and that way you can control it with the blu-ray remote.

Very nice feature.

Also to give you an update, The projector shipped and is on its way via Truck to Atlantic Aviation. We are waiting on a couple of speakers that we on back order but should also be to Atlantic before January 3rd.

I'm planning on starting the install of the project That same week.

With a trip to NYC the week of Jan 24th. If that is a good week for you.

Let me know if you have any other questions.

Nick
