Title: Re: not good

I am here. Mom not good. Can I call you now? She has brain cancer. Had an emotional fit and started yelling at everyone in Hebrew Home for the Aged Sunday night and went into a two hour seizure. Nursing home called ambulance- sent her to Englewood Hospital emergency room. They sedated her- took CAT scan- found to spots- took MRI confirmed...have report -can not understand but not good. Doctor said 6 months...feels like six weeks...I saw her yesterday- she was up and alert and knew everyone but tired...sort of a miraculous recovery. She is on anti-seizure medicine...the doctors want to tell her and I am very opposed. She is agitated enough and I believe you do not tell a dying 87 year old she is dying. She knows. Estate is in order. Gary and I are going to her lawyer in the next few days. I have let the idiot brother handel all medical because there is nothing I can do now. She has breast cancer 5 years ago and it spread to the brain now...so 5 rounds of chemo that made her so sick was for nothing...what to you think. Is there some reason Sloane Kettering did not give her a complete body scan after surviving breast and getting uterine...I have little passion or anger because she is so old anyway...just feel sorry for her.
