Good afternoon,

I Still haven't gotten her on the phone, she replied to my email, regarding the pricing of her plants, that she would call me this weekend, since she just returned on island on Friday.

I never heard from her.

What I will do is stop by her nursery on my way home from work, and try to catch her, so we can be more certain of the pricing, relative to the total value, and considering all discounts for wholesale purchasing.

I will let you know tomorrow, what I find out.
