Hi Jeffrey,

You are already on LinkedIn, google +, yahoo profiles, flickr etc (for example:
<https://plus.google.com/107573774399303529395#107573774399303529395/posts>)

They are not coming up on the 1st page because there are hundreds of Jeffrey Epsteins on each of them so I need to find out how to prioritize you over the others.

There are hundreds of blog sites and public profile sites-- and I'm looking for the best portal that allows me to upload your info to all of these sites in one swoop.

will get back to shortly.

ps: press release already published in several journals-- for example:

if you google "top scientists meet to discuss greatest threats" you will see a list including Newsblaze.

your press releases need to be optimized as well which I will work on.
