dear jeffrey, i'm so sorry i couldn't come to the island. my parents have decided to visit at the very last minute (after unnecessarily long and complicated debates). they've been stressing me a lot but on the other hand it's nice to be with family for the holidays...

martin told me he explained the princeton situation to you. i still have no news from them and that's also been causing some anxiety. but hopefully i'll find out this week. i'll let you know as soon as i know something.

i hope you had a good conference!
