I recall seeing people suspended upside down with their hands stretched way above their heads reaching downward towards the bright blue sky. It was a scene I had visualized many times. This time it was for real. I was smack in the middle of a very difficult trick, competing as the youngest ever member of the Russian snowboarding team at the Torino olympics. This was my childhood dream, finally being realized-. IT took years of determination, perserverance, and convincing reluctant sponsors to believe in both me and my potential. This was the culminating event after traveling around the world, competing in smaller events. in world championships, overcoming injuries, raising my own funds to enable me to hire the best coaches Someinges only a couple of euros at time, settting aside my aches and pains. but I closed my eyes and visuilized the spectators upside down, as I performed a first of many full body fliups. and drove on, I now visulaze myself sitting in an amphitheatre surrounded by a boulibaise of talented studemts from many countires listening to lectures by some of the greatest legal minds, I can see the balckboards, hear the clicks of the laptop keyboards as my fellow Harvard students, refuse to look up at the teacher as they may mistakenly hit the wrong key as they take copious notes. My adult dream is to attend Harvard Law, and i hope in the future to be able to recall extraordinary events that take place there with the same clarity. and perspective. and joy.
