Jeff,

I spoke with Igala today on this. We ran a water test on it to see how it drains and if we make it flat in the middle you will have a waterfall over the wall at the far end. He has gotten it as flat as possible so it will not cause the waterfall.

When the palms take root and he will be able to flatten it a little more and get rid of the unevenness on either side where the palm are.

If I understand correctly, you want it level and flat down the slope. Correct?
