the path from pool to info. should not be seen from the pool,, it was supposed to be a small gravel path, with rocks or pebbles like the old walking path on blue beach,, not these walls.. ,, no walls. NEVER. since it winds around the bend,, you can leave anything that is not seen from the pool. otherwise, redo it. no more that 3 feet across, hence the small opening, in the wall, it is a scar on what i had said, worked hard to be pristine, I WANT PHOTOS , especailly of begiining g work, that is how to protect against these mistakes that cost time money and have to be re done . it is a walking path it was to make level and dry, no more than that ,, the walls look terrible. one little rock to mark the path , no more.
