hi jeffrey,

..so for the relax room I will do white on white venetian plaster vertical and horizontal lines. we discussed in new york about making the lines wider. the relax room has tiles on the floor and one tile is 16X16 inches, so I was thinking to follow the floor lines up on the wall so those vertical and horizontal lines I will do on the wall will be 16 inches wide with a distance between them by 16 inches. so we will have somehow the same squares on the wall like on the floor.

so what do you think about this?

thank you,

ion
