Title: Re: It may be associated to her but not her writing as it is not her language..but her the title suggests that she did talk to [REDACTED] as I said to [REDACTED] non of the letters had come from her directly .. I am not sure doing nothing is an option either..I imagine that it was probably very difficult for her with the press and knowing her probably very devastating - I can only imagine the lies [REDACTED] would have told about her as they were about me. Perhaps you could write back and suggest that she comes over to the states to talk through what her problems are and say there is no issue with her being here or tell her to call...I mean apart from anything her fears are ungrounded and some of her skewed issues can be put to rest..+ in talking to her then we would know for sure it is her
