Hi Jeffrey,

There are two listings on your google first page from The Daily Beast. The two article titles list you as a "peodophile". You have not been formally accused of this and I would like to request them to remove their articles from the internet, on the grounds that this is libel.

Could I talk to Darren about how to approach this? I really think it's worth pursuing to clean up your page.

Do you know Tina Brown? Could we contact her office directly with [REDACTED] formal letter?
