Larry,

I have re-formatted the spec sheet into a PDF for the diamond.

Now that I know JE is interested, I will make the arrangements to show the Boeing in London. Once I have the full commitment of the owner of the diamond we will then figure out the best way to arrange the inspection of the diamond.

The diamond is in Geneva, which is a very convenient location to perform any type of certification required for this type of asset.

I will keep you posted.

Sincerely,

No worries...I will try to PDF it. What is his concern? I am certain we can get someone to certify the stone if that is his concern.
