No active plans for NY but will be in DC May 17-20. Would you believe that Adam graduated with a masters degree in Securities Studies with honors from Georgetown's School of Foreign Service, and got a full scholarship + generous research stipend from American U to do his PhD? Remember the dark days when he was two?

Hi Jeffrey,
On this page: <http://www.jeffreyepsteinfoundation.com/press.htm>

..there is a the following link:

March 24th, 2012: USA Today

Jeffrey Epstein, Philanthropist, Convenes a Conference of Nobel Laureates to Define Gravity

but it goes here, which is a generic search on your name on USA Today's website, and points to both the Conference article and to a negative article:

<http://www.usatoday.com/topics/more+articles/Jeffrey+Epstein> instead the link should point directly to the article you want:

<http://www.prnewswire.com/news-releases/science-activist-jeffrey-epstein-holds-a-conference-of-nobel-laureates-to-define-gravity-148138135.html>
By the way, sounds like a fun event you organized.

Best wishes,

Bill
