Good morning. I have a question for u. :)

What do u think about FB going IPO?

Because some brokerage company offeres my dad a deal that he can buy some shares now before it goes on market on may 18th but i dont like their price it seems really high .The minimum to invest is $50k for 1000 shares. So $50/1 share. And of course my dad doesnt have 50k, and was asking me to join w about $20k or so.

So my concern is that if its a good investment in general to buy FB. And if so then whats the best way to buy and if to keep it long term or just trade it asap afterwards. It seems like a great idea but for some reason im not so sure about it. Im really interested about what u think. Thank you
