I did not check e-mail in time for your last message, so missed it... I will attempt again, perhaps in the morning. Spoke to Martin Nowak today, and the he is doing on hill-climbing modelling sounds top-notch. The other night I was also re-reading some of Mayr's work - did you ever spend time with him? His mind was very, very good and reading his work reminded me of some great conversations that I will share with you one day...
