Later today Warren will get the results of his scans now that he has been on his anti cancer pill Tarceva for approximately 6 weeks. I believe it will show stable or decrease in disease. He is profoundly fatigued; this is secondary to his whole brain radiation and steroid cessation. It should pass over time. The stress of these last few months plus anorexia, severe weight loss, dramatic fatigue and chronic pains are all very depressing and all of this is getting to him. There are other medical issues as well. I have called his oncologist in Dallas and am waiting for a return call. We can talk later when free and after I ve spoken w his MD and heard about the scan results. Michael
