

To: Jeffrey Epstein [REDACTED]
From: Amy Cassell
Sent: Sat 8/9/2014 8:21:13 PM
Subject: Theme of each Cabana

Jeffrey,

We can discuss all of this on Monday...but I wanted to send a few thoughts in advance for you to think about.

First is the theme of each cabana...should they all be a similar theme with different colors; or different themes?

If different themes were desired...could we have (and the "theme" would be treated with loose parameters...I think it's interesting to mix to make the room more layered...and overall everything would be light and bright...sophisticated but simple/primitive)

1. Moroccan - with carved plaster trim and/or wood trim with wide plaster stripes on the walls and a moroccan style bathroom...
2. Grecian - the images I'm going to send are too over the top...but it could be fun to play with this idea for the walls
3. Indonesian - the images I'm going to send are of carved stone walls..."murals" that could extend around the room or be just a focal point...alternatively the idea could be used in the bathroom only...
4. Indian "Lite" - an all white room perhaps accented with an impressive armoire like the Anglo-Indian Armoire from yesterday and the Indian fabric palette...stylized designs from the fabrics could be painted on the walls and ceilings...

Think about it...I'll send separate emails with each "theme"...

My best,
Amy