I am still in the air but at least with internet right now (flight Berlin to NYC did not have internet but NYC to Seattle has it)

I can find out details - but it will take me few days. I will be in SV from Wed to Friday and have meeting with few leading VCs.

From what I see from the portfolio - it is very small, very focused (medical device) and very old school fund.

I never even heard of it.

Unfortunately medical device area has been the worst performer in this class (far beyond pharma, biotech, health IT, dx)

Still please let me find out details
