I understand that the hot water "works" but with no pressure at all. Repair will include the change of the cartridge which took place last Friday + the change of the tank for which we are still waiting for a quote. My understanding is that the change of last week is likely to cost approximately 700 euros and the change of the hot water tank in the range of 1,700 euros, pending receipt of further precise details from PASQUER. The replacement could possibly be done before the end of the week, still pending confirmation from PASQUER.

I just spoke to a representative of PASQUER on the subject. Further details to be received from PASQUER should follow soon.

Best regards.

This is a short note to inform you that the hot water for the shower in Mr. Epstein's bathroom was not working properly (no pressure) and Valdson asked PASQUER to come last week. The cartridge for water pressure was replaced last Friday (invoice to be received), but this morning since the problem was still there, Valdson asked PASQUER to come back.

We have just been informed that it's the hot water tank which needs to be replaced. PASQUER is due to send us a quote for replacement.

I will submit to you what I receive from PASQUER, but I wanted to let you know.

Best regards.
