Going into my April 4 "too busy" phase. Giving 4 talks on for topics over the next week or so including the Milken global conference then trying to respond to Obama care and its needs. CMS notified us that we and what other group unnamed were responsible for saving CMS 41% of all of their savings in their demonstration project . They had chosen the top 30 groups in the country for this. Most were large hospital systems. I need some fun. I'm getting it today. A one-day respite!
