Dr. Fallahpour from the Brain Resource Center (someone I found on the internet) has called back and said they can do a complete test for M on Sat. She will need to pay in full $3500 and it is possible it could be more (max $1000 more) But that will have to be determined. M would need to start at their west side location, work there for a few hours, then get in a cab and go to their other facility on the east side to finish up. They do not have enough coverage at one location to do the entire analysis...Dr. Fallahpour said a little downtime between sessions would be good. I was assured they do Accommodations all the time and they are very familiar with what is needed...
